TWO TANKS OF OXYGEN USED IN VAIN EFFORT TO KEEP MAN ALIVE

Arlington Firemen Work Feverishly with Inhalator in Attempt to Revive Victim of Pneumonia—Clifford W. Wilder Dies After Two Days' Illness—Contracts Sickness While Making Arrangements for Funeral of Wife's Mother Who Died Last Saturday.

Although Arlington firemen worked feverishly for over an hour to revive him with an oxygen inhalator, Clifford W. Wilder, well-known business man, died early yesterday morning, the victim of pneumonia. His death came a few days after that of his mother-in-law Mrs. Ellen V. Taintor, of 75 Grove street, who died last Saturday.

Giving up considerable energy in an unselfish desire to look after all arrangements in connection with the funeral services of his wife's mother, Mr. Wilder contracted pneumonia and his condition became serious. Growing suddenly weaker yesterday morning, his wife decided to call the family physician, Mr. William Basch of Brookline. While waiting for the physician to appear, Mrs. Wilder sent a call to the Arlington fire department requesting oxygen to keep the stricken man breathing. The special service car responded and firemen Tierney, Mahoney and Canfield used the inhalator and supplied oxygen to the victim from 2:30 until 3:40 o'clock yesterday morning. Two tanks of oxygen were used while trying to keep a spark of life in the man. Mr. Wilder, who is a nurse by profession, assisted the firemen in their valiant efforts to keep her husband alive. When Dr. Basch arrived, he pronounced Mr. Wilder dead.

Mr. Wilder was born in Revere fifty years ago and lived here about four years. He was treasurer of Sherwood, Wilder and Sherwood, Incorporated of Lexington and was engaged in selling refrigerators, both in Lexington and in Arlington for the past two years. His sudden death after only two days' illness was a shock to his many friends. He was active in the Shriners, Knight Templars and Masonic lodges.

Besides his wife, Minnie Wilder, he leaves his mother, Mrs. Carrie C. Wilder, a sister, Alice, a brother, Ralph, all of Lawrence; and other sisters, Mrs. John Bailey of Haverhill and Mrs. Elsie Riley of Franklin; a son, Ferdinand W., age 10 and a daughter, Ruth Ann, age 3, both of this town.

His funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon with services at Smith's Funeral home at 3 o'clock. Dr. John Nicol Mark will officiate and burial will be in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

MENOTOMY CLUB HOLDS DANCE
Robbins Memorial Town Hall was filled to capacity last evening when the young people of Arlington enjoyed the Menotomy Club dance. The proceeds will go to defray expenses of the newly organized baseball club.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TEAM ENDS SEASON WITH GREAT RECORD

ARLINGTON ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION BASKETBALL SQUAD

The Arlington Athletic Association basketball team has just ended what was probably its most successful season in years, winning 21 games in 27 starts. Not since the days of the Tech tourney, when Arlington High copped the schoolboy court title, has this town had a team with such an impressive record.

Among Arlington's victims were such fine teams as the Milton American Legion, Lexington Minute Boys, Boston Y. M. H. A. Seconds, Lowell C. Y. M. L., last year's Lowell champions; Winchester Town team and the Reading High School Alumni. Arlington met defeat at the hands of the Holy Cross Independents, St. Pius and St. Mary's of Lynn and Co. E. of Medford. Joseph Goodwin, leading scorer on the team, rolled up 206 points for the season, and Capt. Tom O'Keefe made 197. Bobby Winn and Charlie Crocco were as stubborn a defense to get by as any that appeared on a basketball court around Boston.

LIEUT.-GOV. YOUNGMAN BLAMES PSYCHOLOGY FOR BUSINESS SLUMP

Suggests Ways of Ending Industrial Depression in Speech Before Arlington Clubs Yesterday Afternoon—Raps Proposed Taxation Plan—Urges Co-operation and Optimism.

Ninety-nine percent of the tragedy of the present business depression in America is due to "rotten psychology" in the opinion of Lieutenant-Governor William S. Youngman, who addressed a group of seventy members of Arlington Kiwanis and Rotary clubs at Wyman's English Tavern, Massachusetts avenue, yesterday noon. Lieutenant-Governor Youngman was the guest speaker at the weekly luncheon to which were invited several business men. Arthur J. Mansfield, president of the Melrose Rotary club and new managing editor of the Arlington Daily News was among the guests.

Speaking on the "Ways Out of the Industrial Depression," the lieutenant-governor suggested as a remedy anything and everything that will stop the panicky selling of securities when there is no market. He severely criticized the proposed plan of taxation of one percent of the value of what one buys, pointing out that this is unsound economically and will further induce the strangulation of industries.

Opening his talk, Lieutenant-Governor Youngman painted a graphic picture of the conditions that faced the banks of this country last October 5th. On that day he saw tragedy written on every hand. It was the climax of the drive to get the gold out of America.

"Hoarding was only part of the picture that presented itself at that time. All the banks of

Victory Party To Be Enjoyed By Democrats

The Arlington Women's Democratic Club will hold a Victory party next Thursday evening in the Grand Army hall. There will be dancing in the upper hall with the University orchestra furnishing music. Bridge and whist will be played in the lower hall, and many attractive prizes will be awarded to the winners of the top scores.

A large number of friends from the surrounding towns have signified their intention of attending. Among the invited guests are Miss Mary H. Ward, General of the Women's Democratic Army, Mayor Russell of Cambridge, Mayor Burke of Medford and Mayor O'Neil of Everett. The public is invited to attend and a good time is promised to all.

The committee of arrangements are Mrs. Julia Heron, Mrs. Helen F. Doyle, Mrs. Agnes M. Sullivan, Mrs. May V. O'Brien and Mrs. Lillian Nickerson. They will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph McCarthy, Miss Nellie Reardon, Mrs. Johanna Power, Mrs. Harriet T. Curley, Mrs. Mary V. McManus and Mrs. Esther O'Brien.

Five Arlington High Men Get Their Uniforms

Arlington High uniforms appeared on numerous members of the squad at yesterday's practice session. This goes a long way towards showing Coach Fred Ostegren's idea as to just who is who.

Those who have been given uniforms were five in number. Clarke of course being a veteran, and Crovo, are without a doubt members of the first team. The others who have the suits but who must fight to retain them are Greeley, Wright, and Cronin. The practice yesterday was the first strenuous session that Ostegren has had his charges undergo this season, and from the looks it shouldn't be the last. The time was spent mostly on teaching the players where to throw the ball when under fire.

Troop 5—Miss Grace Mrauten, a very important phase of the game, as many games are dropped because some one member got rattled at a crucial moment and threw the ball wild.

Clarke looked as though he belonged on first base and will probably remain there if he keeps up his fine work. Cronin still looks like the choice for second base. Buckley didn't do so well yesterday but it was just one of those days when everything gets by. Greeley on third was fair but he has that knack and needs only a short time to get going, and show how good he really is. Other sessions will follow soon.

Votes to Decide Most Popular Grammar School Girl First Ballot Appears in Today's Daily News—Contest to Run for Several Weeks—Dollhouse to go to Winner of Title—Standing of Candidates to be Announced—Other Details to Follow.

Here's the news you've been waiting for.
The Arlington Daily News is launching its popularity contest today. Everybody, a coupon will be printed in the Daily News. This is your ballot and all you have to do is to answer one question—"Who is the most popular girl in Arlington's grammar schools?" The first coupon appears on this page. Clip it and send your vote to the Arlington Daily News office at 23 Mystic street immediately. You may vote for any Arlington girl of grammar school age. The more votes this child receives, the greater chance she has of winning.

The girl receiving the largest number of votes will receive as a prize the beautiful doll house now on display in the window of the Daily News office at 23 Mystic street, just off Massachusetts avenue, Arlington. The house stands about four feet high and has two stories, divided up into several rooms all of which are electrically lighted. It is set on casters so that it can be easily shifted about a playroom by any small girl. The house has a front porch, windows and all. You want to be sure to see this attractive plaything which is more than an ordinary toy. Why not drop around and see this prize which will go to Arlington's most popular schoolgirl?

The closing date of the contest will be announced in a future issue of the Daily News. The News will publish the name of those candidates who are in the lead. The doll house will be presented to the winner immediately at the close of the contest which will run over a period of several weeks.

Each coupon appearing on the front page of the Daily News is worth a vote. Anybody can send in a coupon or as many coupons as he wishes. There is no age limit. However, the candidates for the popularity title must be Arlington girls attending any of the elementary school grades from the first through the eighth. Answer the simple questions on the coupon appearing on this page and when properly filled out, either mail or bring the vote to the office of the Arlington Daily News. Do it now! Get your friends to send in their votes, clipped from the News. Go!

Funeral Services for Arlington Resident Held This Afternoon

Cubs Lose In Hoop Tourney

The S. Medford Cubs were eliminated in the second round trials of the Boston Boys' Club tournament held Tuesday evening in the Jordan Memorial gym, Charlestown. The Cambridge Arrows took a 24-23 decision in regulation time.

Norman Weston and Castadora, South Medford forwards, divided 19 points between them but their good work was offset by the long shot of Foster, Arrows' right guard, who scored 12 points, most of them in the closing minutes of play.

Last week the Cubs won a hectic double-overtime game and thereby qualified for the second round of trials. One other Medford team played Tuesday evening, the Medford Indians dropping a 47-14 decision to the Maroon Juniors of Cambridge.

Sidelights On Navy In 1825

A schoolmaster aboard the USS BRANDYWINE, in 1825, George Jones, has given us some interesting accounts in his diary of the Navy of that day. Here are a few of the highlights:

A funeral party at which the sailors wore red jackets, small straw hats, white pantaloons, and shirts with blue collars.

Flogging aboard the BRANDYWINE was chiefly for drunkenness. The cat was used, made up of twelve small solid cords attached to the end of a stick about twelve inches long.

The ship was entitled to a crew of 380 sailors and 60 marines. The crew were formed into grades. Seamen got $12.00 per month.

From the U. S. Naval Air Station News, San Diego, California comes this one: According to sensational rumor we heard of a sailor who died leaving a fortune of $47,599.27. He had always lived soberly, saved part of his pay, chosen his comrades with care, rarely treated, never spent his money foolishly and generally was as thrifty as an insulted Scotchman. Also, he inherited $47,000 just before he died.

Approximately 40,000 men are at present engaged in maneuvers of the U. S. Navy in the Pacific this year.

Teel Mfg. Co. To Have Fine Ford Display Tomorrow

Tomorrow morning everyone in Medford and vicinity will have an opportunity to see for themselves just what the new Ford V-8 is like—for the newest automotive sensation of 1932 will be displayed at the showroom of the Teel Mfg. Co., local Ford distributors, 127 Main street, beginning tomorrow morning.

"The new Ford V-8 represents a notable advance in motor car engineering," states Jules Herndon, who is associated with Richard J. Teel, in the management of Teel Mfg. Co.

"The new car is large, long, roomy, fast, powerful and alert. Its eight-cylinder V-type engine develops 65 horsepower. The car is capable of 75 miles an hour."

"Some of the mechanical features are rubber mounting for engine; downdraft carburetor; automatic spark control; fuel pump; rear fuel tank; soft, flexible springs; large mechanical four-wheel brakes; small, strong, electrically welded steel-spoke wheels and large tires. The frame is cushioned from the running gear by rubber insulators in the spring shackles and shock absorber links."

"Fourteen beautiful body types may be obtained with either the V-8 or improved four-cylinder engine. They are:

Phaeton.
Coupe.
Tudor Sedan.
Fordor Sedan.
Sport Coupe.
Cabriolet.

De Luxe Roadster.
De Luxe Phaeton.
De Luxe Coupe.
De Luxe Tudor Sedan.
De Luxe Fordor Sedan.
Victoria.
Convertible Sedan."

"These body types may be obtained in a wide variety of color combinations."

The sales organization at Teel's, under the leadership of Mr. Herndon have made elaborate plans for the public reception which will be accorded the new car at the showroom tomorrow. Hundreds of printed and personal invitations have been extended to the people of Medford and vicinity to come and inspect the new Ford sensation. The showroom has been appropriately decorated and the entire sales personnel—Jack Rayner, Jack Dalton, Jim Munroe, Patsy Selvitelli, Ray Dickie and Roy Torrey, together with Mr. Herndon and J. Teel, will be in attendance during the display to greet and welcome old and new friends. The show room will be open all day Sunday and every evening during the week for the convenience of the hundreds who will wish to inspect the car.

The display of the new Ford car will also be an opportunity for the Teel organization to introduce its brand new Lubritorium. Conveniently located at the left of the Teel repair department building, with a direct entrance from Main street, the new Lubritorium is bound to be extremely popular with motorists, because the charges for lubricating and servicing any car are so reasonable. In addition, the latest high pressure equipment for car greasing is used. It is interesting to note that at the Teel Lubritorium the same grade of lubricant is not used throughout the entire job of greasing a car—instead, that particular lubricant which is recommended by the maker of the car is used in each case. Hence, nine different grades of lubricant are used in the ordinary lubricating job.

This extra care in the use of the proper lubricants protects every car from excessive wear in its moving parts, as well as providing its owner with trouble free service.

Medford Odd Fellows To Attend Unique Winchester Meeting

The Odd Fellow lodges confer the initiatory degree on their own candidates, while the remaining three degrees are conferred in other lodges that are members of an exchange system. This permits every lodge to become very proficient in the working of its special degree. And this also permits visitation and better work performed before visitors.

There is an exception sometimes in this plan, as on Monday evening next, when the initiatory degree will be exemplified in the Winchester Town hall, when the crack degree team of Swampscott lodge, 140, will exemplify to which all Odd Fellows are invited.

This team has a fine reputation among Odd Fellows and is known as the Fishermen's degree team. It has made many improvements in its work and enlarged the degree in every way. It has not been seen in this neighborhood for a long time and this opportunity will no doubt be taken advantage of by many members of the order.

This occasion has been made possible through the co-operation of Harmony, Mt. Vernon, and Waterfield lodges.

Miss Kate Collins, age 60, of 20 Brooks street, West Medford, died Tuesday after a long illness. Miss Collins was a resident of Medford for the past 25 years. She was a universal favorite throughout the section in which she lived, loyal to all her friends and generous to any neighbor in trouble.

She was a member of the Ladies' Sodality of St. Raphael's church. She will be buried at Newport, R. I.

Miss Collins is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Dwyer of Rosindale and Mrs. Helena Quinn of East Orange, N. J., and two brothers in Newport, R. I.

New Ford On Display At J. H. Motor Sales Co.

At the showroom of the J. H. Motor Sales Co., local Ford distributors, at 496 Salem street, everything is in readiness for the public reception and showing of the new Ford V-8. The new car will be displayed beginning tomorrow morning.

For weeks, since it became practically certain that Henry Ford would offer a V-8 and a new four-cylinder car, the universal question has been, "How much will they cost?" Answering that the price announcement instantly gave rise to another:

"How can he do it?" It has been known for weeks that the Ford company was bringing out an almost revolutionary eight-cylinder V-type motor that would be interchangeable with a greatly improved four-cylinder motor in any one of fourteen standard and de luxe body types. Likewise it has been known that new cars would have a longer wheelbase, roomier bodies, and a variety of other new features.

Tomorrow the new car will be at the J. H. Showrooms, which, for the convenience of all friends and customers, will be open every evening through the week, and all day Sunday.

Meeting of All A. L. Commanders In State Apr. 16th

DON'T BE FOOLED
A stranger soliciting orders for suits in Arlington represents himself as the agent of a Chicago Clothing manufacturer. This individual asks for a deposit of seven dollars on each suit ordered and it is reported that the suits are not delivered when promised nor is the deposit returned to the purchaser.
Our citizens would do well to refrain from doing business with solicitors from out of town unless they deal in merchandise of recognized value made by reliable manufacturers.
Arlington has many merchants who can adequately supply the clothing needs of this community and we would suggest that our people trade at home and promote home industry whenever quality and service are equal or nearly equal to propositions offered by outsiders.

The Spotlight on Arlington Sports
By Bob Forest

BASEBALL TEAMS NOTE:
"Connie Mack" once voiced the opinion that interest in baseball was dying out among the younger generations. It did seem for a while that he was right, at least as far as Arlington was concerned. Interest had dropped off considerably for various reasons. Chief among these was the inadequate facilities for playing, afforded the much younger players. Up until very few years ago there were no fields in any part of the town which were at all suitable for an enjoyable ball game without the fear of a sprained ankle, or running off a cliff. Another reason was lack of organization in so far as competition. The other reason of any importance was lack of funds to outfit a team. This was a trifle in some instances but a necessity in others.
The town woke up to the fact that on the streets of Arlington unusually large numbers of children were escaping death by merest fractions every day. A hurried consultation was the result, but from the consultation came something vitally important to life of baseball in Arlington. It was decided that Arlington must have more playgrounds not only for the younger people, but for the advanced students in Physical Education. Old lots were purchased by the town, stones were raked off, old automobiles removed to the dumps, leveling was dumped on from some street that was being built. The town steam roller was run over it, and a new field was added; but most important there were probably ten new teams added to baseball. Then of course there came the question of supplying bases, balls, gloves, and bats.
Mr. Wunderlich a Park Commissioner then stepped in and out of his own pocket supplied the missing equipment. This was all that was necessary for a start, and from then on the players supplied it themselves.
Lack of organization was a hindrance and still is, though this year sees a more complete league in Arlington and possibly two or three leagues. In the fact that there was no incentive in winning except just to win last year, hurt the rate receipts of the local Semipro ball club last summer. This was recognized by them and as a smart ball club they joined a league.
They will be playing in the new Middlesex league this summer, and will have an object in every game, either that of staying in first place, or trying to get out of last place. Whatever it is there will be ever present the organization, which is a prime necessity in the keeping up of the newly awakened interest in baseball in Arlington. The greatest steps towards getting all the best teams together are the playgrounds in the summer. Under the supervision of trained men the teams have played and learned the game as it should be learned. With this in the mind the Daily News will print all challenges sent in. There are a few in now but the best bet looks like the "Pals" vs. "The Menotomy Club."

The absence of uniforms ought to have very little to do with the playing of a team. But if they feel as though they must have uniforms. The pioneers of Athletic and Social clubs "The Arlington Pals" have shown the way to the rest of the clubs in the securing of athletic uniforms. The "A. A." has followed suit and was successful and now as the "Menotomy Club" should prove equally as successful.
A product of Arlington High, Hebron and The Pals, Edson "Chippie" Gaw is playing for the New Haven club of the Eastern league. "Chippie" is a pitcher and has terrific speed, and control. He should go places in this league and after a couple of years of experience he will be ready for the big money.
We notice home for vacation are: Frieri, from Shroudsburg, Ed. Gallucci, and Charlie Lane from Dean Academy, Donald and Willard Wallace from Mass. State, Lester Barrett is also around.
Bob Grannan is making quite a dent up at Tilton with his sidekick Buddy Beasley. They started in football, and basketball but that isn't the half of it, they were on the honor roll, which is indeed an honor for an athlete.
While at the Garden wrestling match last Wednesday night when the fight started looking for news, the scribbles got as close as possible to the scene of conflict, and counted just seven local boys in the middle of the conflict. They must have been looking for news also.
A funny incident in the Garden that evening was when some fan in the middle of the big argument, a trifle warm under the collar, heaved a chair into the ring narrowly missing the announcer's head. The announcer turned and looking at the man as though to say "is that entirely necessary."
BELMONT
A woman's auxiliary has been formed to affiliate with the Italian American Political Club of Belmont. The main purpose of this new organization is to increase good will among the Italian women of the town. This will be a sort of woman's club, with guest speakers on subjects of interest to the women. The officers chosen are Miss Mary F. Scarfo, president; Mrs. M. Bellantoni, treasurer; and Miss Lena Lania, recording secretary.

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules
1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray" of Sunshine into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.
These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway. Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine Column.
Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.
To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

Birthday on Tuesday
Dear Daddy Sunshine:
My name is Marie Finnerty and I live at 10 Dexter street, Medford. I would like to join your Sunshine club. I will obey the rules. Will you please send me a pin? My birthday is next Tuesday, April 12th.
Would like to have you announce it over the radio in your broadcast Monday evening. I will be listening in. I would also like to sing over the radio, with the rest of the little Sunshiners.
I am saving silver paper now. Very truly yours,
Marie Finnerty.
P. S. I forgot to tell you, I will be six years old.

Welcome Marie. Daddy Sunshine has no doubt but that you will make one of the active members of the club and that you will write frequently. He knows you will obey the rules and do all you can to spread sunshine. When the pins arrive he will announce it in the column. Be sure and get in touch with him at that time because as a rule the pins do not last very long.

Writes a Story
Dear Daddy Sunshine:
How are you? I am feeling just great. Isn't the weather just grand. Would you mind if I tell you a short story?
Well here it is and the name is "Nail Soup."
Long ago there was an old woman in a forest who was not very kind.
A man happened to pass there one day and all he had was a nail in his pocket. He didn't know what to do, so he knocked at the door of the cottage.
A little, old, fat, woman appeared with a grunt on her face. "Good morning," said the beggar.
"Don't you good morning me," replied the old woman in a tone that would take any one off of their feet.
"Have you got a piece of bread for a poor old beggar who has nothing to eat?"
"I certainly have not. I haven't even got enough for myself," she said.
The old beggar thought she was only saying that to get rid of him, so he said, "Well wouldn't you like me to make some 'Nail Soup' for the two of us, now that we both are in the same fix?"
"Nail Soup," the old woman said, "why goodness I never heard of such a thing before."
"Well let me in and I'll show you how."
The old woman thought she would have to give in some way, so she let him in.
He asked her for her pot and to fill it with water and put it over the fire.
This she did. And so he went on and bribing her in every way for different things, finally he found out she was much better off than him.
Last of all he took the nail out and poured the soup into a dish. This they ate and the old woman not knowing that the soup was "beef stew," thought it was just grand.
Pretty soon the beggar went away with a nice full stomach and the old woman stood waiting or rather watching the old beggar go out of sight. She thought, "Not many people as kind as that come my way every day."
Daddy, may I please go on the boat? I just love boats and I think it would be grand. I loved boats ever since I was a baby. I have only been on boats twice, since I was a baby, and I have never been on again since then.
Well I certainly hope I can go this time because I really forget what it's like.

A SUNSHINER
A Sunshiner is a person, Who will live long-happy years, Because he spreads sweet Sunshine— Brings laughter 'stead of tears.
In his heart he has a warm spot, Burning for his fellow men; He always helps the weary. He learns of now and then.
He delights in gifts of gladness, And quite naturally has found In helping those in sorrow, His life with joys abound.
There are thrills unknown to many Who seek not some good to do; It yet you have not known them, Why not spread Sunshine too? By Daddy Sunshine 4-8-32

A Fine Letter
Dear Daddy Sunshine:
How are you? I am alright. Well, April is here, the coming of spring. Here is something about golden deeds. The name of it is "A Honest Farmer."
Once upon a time there was a war in Germany, long ago, and thousands of soldiers were scattered over the country. There was a captain who had a great many men and they were starving, so he told the colonel he must get food from the farmers near by.
The captain walked for a while when he spied a little cottage. He knocked at the door and it was opened by an old man.
The captain asked him if he had anything to give to the soldiers. He said he had some barley. They approached a big farm and saw barley waving in the breeze.
This is just what we want said the captain. I will let my soldiers cut the grain and bring it to the army.
No, not yet, said the farmer you must follow me a little further.
After another long walk they came to a little farm and there was barley. He let the soldiers cut it and bring it to the army. After the work was done the captain said, "Why did you make us walk so far, the other field was much better." "That is true sir," answered the honest old man; but it was not mine."
Hope you like it. I am going to send in a poem also, the name of it is "Don't Give Up."
If you've tried and have not won, Never stop for crying; All that's great and good is done Just by patient trying.

Though young birds in flying fall, Still their wings grow stronger, And the next time they can keep up a little longer.
Though the sturdy oak has known Many a blast that bowed her, She has risen again, and grown, Loftier and prouder.
If by easy work you beat, Who the more will prize you? Gaining victory from defeat— That's the test that tries you.

TOLEDO were closed. Twenty-three banks were closed in Philadelphia. It was impossible to find a safe deposit box within twenty miles of Chicago because all were put to use by hoarders. Everybody was possessed with the idea of turning everything he had in cash, but not desiring to put it to work. In this way, practically all moves that had been made to help the economic situation were more or less useless. On October fifth many women went home in tears because they were joined in a mortgage which took away their homes," the speaker said.
"Relief plans for a hundred and fifty million dollars to stem the tide of deflation were put into action. President Hoover found at that time that there was something laid-away in the sock of the American people.
He wanted $500,000,000 from private individuals to meet the needs of the situation. Before sunset of October sixth there were one billion dollars subscribed by individuals to this fund which was known as the banker's pool as it was controlled largely by the banks of the country.
"There were two significant points of interest in connection with this matter. First, it was not the action of Congress or any other governing body but was entirely a voluntary matter. Second," the speaker pointed out, "it indicated that America said to the world," we are making a new declaration of independence. On October 6, 1931 we declared our financial independence from the rest of the world.
The fact that England went off the gold standard was the most striking event since the Battle of Hastings. England rose in her might, faced the facts and formed a coalition government and produced the biggest control possible through the national party. It may be said that England truly is adjusting her affairs. The fact that England went off the gold standard necessarily had to follow suit. For centuries the gold pound was the standard of measurement for world trade. France and the United States had at that time seventy five percent of the world's gold supply. We in America had faith in our discount system. We took as collateral wheat, cotton and other commodities so that they missed their guess in trying to throw us off our base."
The lieutenant-governor continued, "The reconstruction act was passed by both Houses almost unanimously, and was another act of faith. Charles G. Dawes in charge of this matter at that time saved banks as fast as a small boy could eat peanuts.
"This helped to save the allies of the World War because of the elasticity of currency made possible through this act. Through the agency of our Federal Reserve System we can secure funds when needed," he stated. "The Savings Banks and insurance companies could not find purchasers for their bonds and securities, but now the Federal Reserve Banks can allow actual cash by way of rediscount of bonds endorsed by member banks as securities.
"This tragedy of America was ninety-nine percent rotten psychology," said the lieutenant-governor. He suggested as a remedy anything and everything that will stop the panicky selling of securities when there is no market. Our best securities are still the best investments in the world. We are sound, but too deeply buried in gloom," he continued.
"Why has the stock market taken another downward plunge?" asked the speaker. "It is just another part of the vicious circle of gloom," he pointed out. "We can expect no favorable developments unless instead of retarding industrial development we seek to stimulate it and make possible the enlarging of credit. The taxation of one percent of the value of what one buys is one of the new forms of taxation that is proposed. This is unsound economically and will further induce the strangulation of our industries. If this program of taxation is adopted, it will cancel all the

ALL IN A WEEK

The Arlington High School Dramatic Club will present the play "Janice Meredith" as their annual outstanding production of the season in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall next Friday evening April 15. This year in keeping with the Bicentennial celebration, the club has worked out a Revolutionary war setting and the players will be garbed in Colonial attire. A large cast is busy rehearsing under the direction of Mrs. Helen F. Matthews of the faculty and her assistant Miss Claire Johnston. Tickets are going fast and a record turnout is expected.

Under the new installment plan you can enjoy ocean travel, if you put a little down. If you can also enjoy it more thoroughly, if you can keep a little food down afterward.

Baseball practice at the High School is working out very smoothly. A large number of candidates for berths on the nine have reported to Coach Fred Ostergren who predicts a great season this year. The team will have the support of Husky Grove who was a shining light of the grid team last fall. If he performs as well on the diamond as he did on the foot ball field the opponents of the red and gray will have their work cut out for them this season. Bill Mahoney son of Officer William P. Mahoney of the Police force is also out on the diamond and he is expected to bolster the team up considerably. His father attended Arlington High from 1908 to 1910, graduating in 1910. He was an all-around star in school athletics especially baseball, football and cross-country.

The baseball team will open its season taking on the strong Winthrop High nine on Saturday April 16 at Arlington.

Mayor Curley succeeded in including Pola Negri of motion picture fame to attend a women's Roosevelt rally at the Hotel Touraine this week. If the Mayor can induce a few celebrities to attend his Arlington Rally—along with himself—he may have to provide seats for the overflow crowd.

Miss Roberta M. Morgan of 49 Norfolk Road has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa fraternity at Vassar College. Miss Morgan, a Junior at Vassar, was born in Duluth, Minnesota but moved to Arlington with her parents several years ago. She prepared for college at the Cambridge Haskell School.

With his salary squeezed down to a mere $75,000, Babe Ruth will certainly have to pinch pennies this year. The Menotomy Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will celebrate their ninth birthday today. A stereopticon lecture on "George Washington" will feature their meeting this evening.

Earl Jeffreys of Bow street, Arlington Heights, was in charge of the play presented in the vestry of the Heights M. E. Church "Parents' Night" this week. Following the play, the boys gave interesting exhibitions or signaling, knot tying, first aid and other activities.

RKO KEITH-BOSTON

Sharing headline honors at the RKO Keith-Boston Theatre this week are two Boston boys, both famous comedians of the stage and screen, Benny Rubin, master of facial comedy, contortionism, and Jack Haley, chief funster of many a Broadway production including "Follow Thru," "Sons of Guns" and "Free for All." Broadwayites, always quick for comparisons, have called Rubin and Haley the "Cohen and Kelly of Vaudeville," and "The Abies Irish Rose of Vaudeville," their banter, like that in the pictures and the play, being of the friendly enemy variety.

Another featured artist on the vaudeville bill is Miss Lillian Shade, singing sensation of Broadway night clubs and who, at the close of her present RKO tour will be starred in the new Irving Berlin musical comedy opening in the Fall. Miss Shade presents a series of modern songs written especially for her by Al Siegel.

Among the other RKO stage features is the team of B. & B. featuring Loretta Allen, known as the "Rhythmic Athletes of 1932."

Five popular screen names head the cast of "Young Bride," the screen attraction this week at the Keith-Boston. Helen Twilwreets, brilliant star of "Millie" and "Her Man"; Eric Linden and Arline Judge, romantic team of "Are These Our Children?" Roscoe Ates and Cliff Edwards are the quintette of favorites in this RKO-Pathe Picture.

The story concerns a beautiful and cultured girl who hangs for romance denied her in her prosaic situation of librarian's assistant. Meeting the handsome shik of a cheap dance hall, she is blinded by the glamour of his vivid talk of far-away places and big business deals and mistaking the shell for reality, she surrenders to her longings for romance, only to meet disillusion and face a desperate struggle for happiness. Orchestral music by Larry Flint and the RKO-Lians, latest Pathe News, RKO comedy and cartoon are other attractions.

The right soup served in the right way always reveals knowledge of food values. Clear soups are served before dinner to warm the stomach and enliven the digestion. Cream soups are served to furnish nourishment preceding a light luncheon or as the meat itself if bread sticks, crackers or melba toast are added. Soups are both economical and healthful. Here are two suggestions.

- Mushroom Chicken Soup
 - 4 pound mushrooms
 - 2 tablespoons butter or chicken fat
 - 2 tablespoons minced green peppers
 - 2 tablespoons diced celery
 - 2 tablespoons rice
 - 1 quart chicken stock
 - 1 cup light cream or top milk
 - 2 tablespoons flour
 - 1 egg (optional)
- Peel the caps and stems of the mushrooms and cut in dice. Melt the butter, add mushrooms, vegetables and rice and cook until the rice is yellow, stirring often. Pour in the stock and boil until rice is tender. Add cream, thicken with the flour dissolved in a little cold milk and when boiling pour into the egg yolk, beaten. Season if needed with salt, pepper and a trace of nutmeg.

- Oyster, Clam or Crab Bisque
 - 1 pint oysters, clams, or crab meat, chopped fine
 - 1/4 cup celery, ground
 - 1 slice onion, ground
 - 1 pint boiling water
 - 1 pint milk
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 2 tablespoons flour
 - 1/4 cup top milk or light cream
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1-8 teaspoon pepper
 - Five grains nutmeg.
- Combine the fish with water, celery and onion and simmer twenty minutes. Scald the milk and thicken with the butter and flour rubbed together. Strain the fish stock into this, rubbing through as much of the fish as possible. Add the seasoning. Serve with a rusting of parsley.

Next week we are going to answer questions that have come to us. If you wish your problem to be discussed address Homemaker, Melrose Citizen.

Homes of Beauty & Comfort

Informal Exterior Lines Make the Decatur Decidedly Different from The Average Conventional Bungalow

The average bungalow is a stereotyped affair—a broad expanse of roof covering a box like structure with a square open porch at the front. The home builder who desires to construct a home with one floor yet wants something that is not conventional will do well to study the plans of the Decatur which is illustrated in adjacent columns. Here is a dwelling that is delightful in its free, informal exterior lines. The sweeping extension of the roof and the face of the facade to form a wall which shields the family gathered on the terrace off the living room is a happy expression of architectural art. The irregular roof lines, the charming chimney, and the well balanced window areas all appeal to the home lover.

The interior arrangement also contains merit. The sleeping unit with the two bedrooms and bath grouped by themselves off a private hall is a practical application of commonsense design. The breakfast nook in its alcove off the kitchen is a decided convenience. Each room has points that mark the Decatur as a modern home.

Well Designed

The exterior lines show the thought and care that have gone into this house. The construction idea behind the plan is equally practical. The footings and foundation walls of the residence are constructed of concrete blocks. The sides of the house are gray stained shingles, laid 10 inches to the weather. Under the shingles is a coating of tarred felt which insulates the house and aids in conserving fuel.

Tried Plans

This is a home that has actually been constructed. The plans have been tried by a critical home owner and pronounced satisfactory. One of the advantages of using plans of houses that have been constructed in other localities is their evident satisfaction. Each has proven itself.

The dimensions of the Decatur are 34 feet by 23 feet, a size which conserves roofing. One of the disadvantages of the average bungalow is the wide expanse of roofing and the extreme foundation walls which result from its shape. The Decatur being more square, conserves on foundations and roofing.

Living Room Delightful

The living room is larger than is common in a one story house, being 19 feet long and 13 feet 3 inches wide. At one end is a pair of French doors leading to a concrete slab terrace outside.

THERE is no finishing material which has a more romantic origin than shellac. When the homemaker uses it to coat lamp shades, woodwork, chintz screens, old prints or floors, she very seldom realizes that it is a product of animal life and is made of the excretions of millions of tiny red insects which swarm from the tree which, when exuded through their bodies, forms an incrustation. This incrustation is broken from the tree and ground to make shellac, which, when dissolved in alcohol, becomes the varnish we know by that name.

New ways of using shellac are being discovered every day, but in all cases the method of application is the same. A large rather full brush is used. Two coats may be applied within an hour or two of each other but a longer drying time is preferable. Because of its quick-drying properties, shellac must be put on quickly. Laps and joints are not liable to occur but exceptional care must be taken to avoid skipping places. Even when

This terrace is shielded by the extension of the front of the dwelling and forms a secluded spot where the family can lounge on hot summer days. It takes the place of the old fashioned front porch and serves this purpose just as satisfactorily.

During the colder months of the year the family can gather in front of the large fireplace which graces the living room. This is constructed with a brick hearth and face. It burns real logs.

Just within the plaster arch which separates the shallow vestibule from the living room is a closet which may be used for the storage of overcoats, rubbers, umbrellas and like articles.

Sleeping Unit

Mention has been made of the sleeping unit of the dwelling. Here are the two bedrooms and the bath. The bath lies between the bedrooms and each chamber is served by a private hall.

The bath is snug and compactly arranged. It contains a built-in tub, resting flat on the floor. The medicine cabinet is built in also, and is of steel.

Each of the chambers is equipped with a closet. Windows on two sides of each room assure cross ventilation and ample light.

Well Arranged Kitchen

The housewife will be delighted with the kitchen of the Decatur which is arranged to save steps. The gas stove is located in an alcove. The sink, situated under a window is flanked on one side by a kitchen cabinet, which reaches to the ceiling.

Beside the pantry case is the refrigerator, which may be served by an outside iced door. The use of an outside iced door makes it unnecessary for the ice man to enter the dwelling when delivering ice. Dirt and water are never tramped in which this method of delivering ice to the refrigerator is used.

Fully Excavated Basement

The basement, which is reached from the service entry off the kitchen, is fully excavated. With the exception of the fuel room which is partitioned off from the rest of the basement, the floor is open. However it might easily be divided into rooms if this is deemed advisable.

The floor is constructed of cement. The heating plant is a hot air furnace which is also equipped with a coil for heating water during the winter months when the furnace is in operation. The tank for hot water is close by. The door to the fuel room is a few steps away.

Household Recipe Service

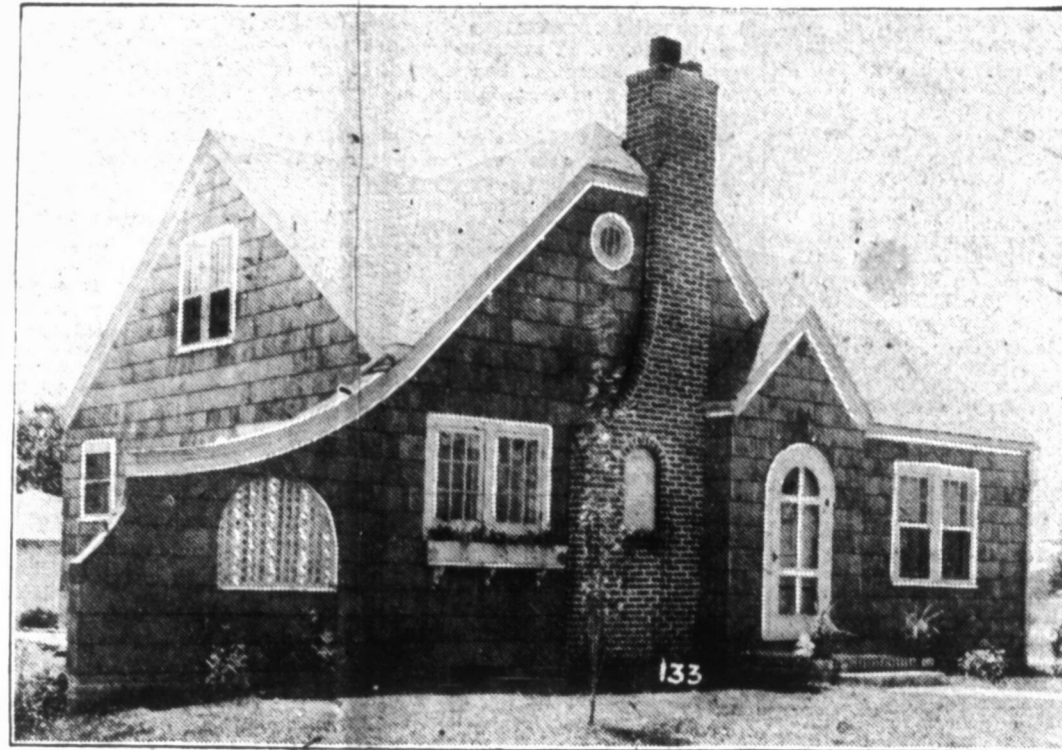

"BREAD is the staff of life but pudding is a good crutch," says an old Scotch proverb. Pineapple pudding is an especially good crutch at this season when we lean toward lighter foods and yet need quick energy to offset that lazy spring fever feeling. Here is a tested pudding you will like.

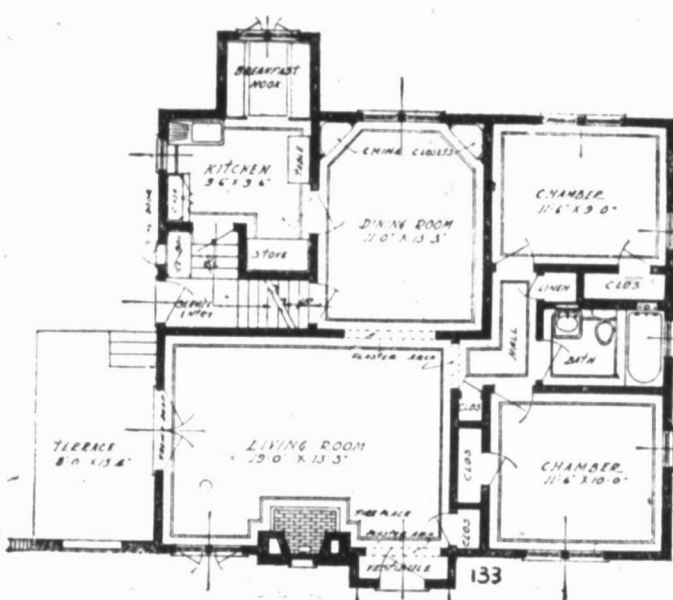

Pineapple Charlotte: Remove crusts from eight slices of bread and spread with butter. Heat to boiling the contents of a No. 2 can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple with one-fourth cup of sugar added. This dessert, incidentally, is worthy of the Grade 1 pineapple, the best of the three grades of pineapple which have their numbers 1, 2 and 3 stamped in the top of the cans. Next, put layers of the buttered bread and hot pineapple in a rather deep dish. Press down well, let stand several hours in refrigerator, turn out in a mold and serve cut in slices. Garnish mold with whipped cream and maraschino cherries.

A BUNGALOW THAT IS 'DIFFERENT'

The Decatur, a modern five room bungalow with bath, has been designed for the family desiring to get away from the conventional, box-like one story dwelling. Many features of this charming home are revealed by a study of the accompanying floor plans, which can be studied with profit to the prospective builder.

Sagamore Spring Golf Course Opens Tomorrow

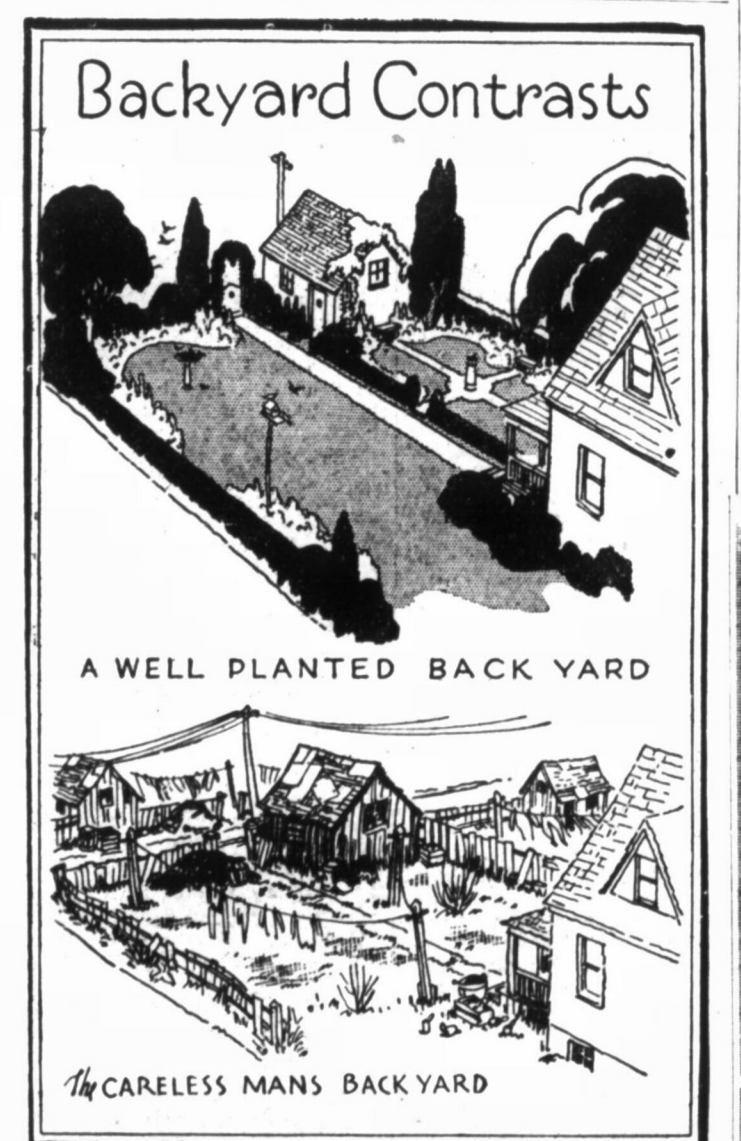

To many golfers in this vicinity the opening, each year, of the Sagamore Spring Golf Club at Lynnfield Center marks the beginning of the golfing season. The popularity of this course is due to the fact that it is the only eighteen hole golf course operated exclusively for the benefit of the general public in the metropolitan area north of Boston.

The scenic beauty of the course, the natural hazards and the sporty layout are added attractions. A well appointed club house provides conveniences not usually found on public courses and an atmosphere of cordial friendship and good will prevails. The small charge for playing privileges enables many golfers to enjoy this popular pastime at a moderate cost.

The season is on. FORE!

Back Yard Contrasts

The above sketch shows better than words can tell the value of an attractive rear yard. Surely there is something fundamental in the satisfaction one finds in the planted home and garden.

Voltaire, the great French philosopher, has written a humorous satire on life called "Candide." In this work, Voltaire pictures a few characters going through life ever seeking happiness or contentment in new and different experiences of all conceivable nature. Strangely these characters remain unhappy and dissatisfied until they finally settle down to the lowly occupation of spending their time living simply and raising vegetables and flowers in their gardens. Here it is that they finally find satisfaction and contentment in life.

Planting about the home surely makes for completeness in living. There is a satisfaction in having that which represents you look as though you were proud of having a home worth while. For those who must consider the practical, it is sound economics to invest in planting. Landscape improvements yield rich returns in satisfaction and in increasing the value of the property.

BOY SCOUT CAMP AT AMESBURY OPENS JULY 2

The Camp committee of the Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, met at the council office Wednesday evening. George W. Pingree represents Medford on this committee. The committee set the date for the opening of the camp, Saturday July 2. The closing date will be Saturday, August 27, a season of eight weeks as in the past.

The chief item of business, however, was the development of the camp layout in accord with the vote of the Executive Board establishing the Divisional Plan. The Divisional Plan is a plan whereby Troops may come to camp under their own leadership and "take over" a camp unit of two or three bunkhouses. Hence the Troop may conduct a Troop Camp at the Council camp with all the benefits of such an experience without any of the hazards. Already the Troops of the council have accepted this new idea with enthusiasm. Thus far while there has hardly been sufficient time for the word to reach all of the Troops, three Troops, namely Troop 5 Medford, Troop 2 Stoneham and Troop 7 Winches-ter have definitely stated that they will want to reserve one of the units for a week or more, with either the Scoutmaster or an adult Assistant Scoutmaster in charge. The 1932 camp folders will go to press Saturday morning. They will be delivered to troops at their regular troop meetings by members of the camp committee during the week of April 11 to 16. Every Scout is looking forward to receiving one of these folders, because this year the folder is to be different than ever before. One side of the folder will be devoted to a map of the camp showing the new location of the bunkhouse, while the other side gives all the information needed to acquaint the Scout and his parents with the camp.

Scout Leaders Club
The Scout Leaders Club will meet at the Woburn Y. M. C. A. Tuesday, April 12. Scout Commissioner W. E. Moars will be the speaker. His subject is "A Merit Badge Exposition for the Fellsland Council." Gove Sleeper of Burlington is President of the Club. Elmer Waters of Woburn is secretary, Frederick S. Hatch of Winchester, Treasurer, and Francis McCall of Stoneham is Vice President.

Courts of Honor
Medford—Board of Review, April 13th, Court of Honor, April 28.
Stoneham—last Wednesday of each month.
Winchester—date to be announced.
Woburn—third Tuesday of each month.

Medford Troop Notes
The March 30th meeting of Troop 8, was in charge of Scout Harry Whittemore who conducted the rally so long planned. The five Patrols participated in this rally with enthusiasm.

The Torch bearer for the last meeting was Scout Carlton Sperry who spoke for the best interest of the Troop and selected Scout Wendell Fearon to be the Torch Carrier for the next week. For years Miss Foster, principal of elementary schools in West Medford has been interested in the Boy Scouts and the things they do. At the last meeting of the Troop, Scout Paul Belair escorted Miss Foster to the Troop meeting where the Scouts were waiting at attention. Miss Foster was given a salute by the Troop. Miss Foster visited the Troop for the major part of the meeting.

There has been an increase in the number of parents visiting the Troop recently. The custom now is that if both of the parents of any of the Scouts visit the Troop, then the Scout is called upon to introduce his parents to the boys. Troop 3 of Winchester visited the Troop at the April 6 meeting. On Sunday the Troop will attend services at the West Medford Congregational church in recognition of the continuous chartering of the Troop.

President of Mass. Prison Ass'n To Speak To Brotherhood

An intimate and authentic picture of prison life in general and penal institutions in Massachusetts, in particular, is to be given this evening at the monthly gathering of the Lyman Chas Brotherhood of the West Medford Baptist church, when Thomas C. O'Brien, president of the Massachusetts Prison association is to give an address covering the main features of penal life. The meeting is to be held in the Crosby Memorial Hall, and a large number of the members of the Brotherhood and their friends are to be in attendance.

Mr. O'Brien has long been in the public eye, having served in many official capacities, until now he is justly considered as an authority in penal life and institutions. For years he served as a member of Parole and Advisory Board of Pardon, after which he occupied the position of deputy commissioner of prisons. At one time he was institutions commissioner for the city of Boston, and also was district attorney of Suffolk County. His message will reflect a vast knowledge which has been gained through long years of actual experience with criminality and punishment.

The community sing, under the leadership of Director of Music Frederick J. Parsons, with Orison K. Smith at the piano, will be the regular opening feature of the gathering.

Refreshments will be served, and a general "mix-up" enjoyed following the program, with the committee in charge composed of Norman H. Abbott, Eric Anderson, Fred Burris, William F. Bowsher, Fred A. Ball, Milton Smith, Thomas Musgrave, John Sanborn, Edwin Wheeler, G. P. Whitman and Fred E. Coates.

Medford Attorney Speaker At Quincy

Making Price Sole Criterion In Industry Lowers Taste Standards

New York, April 8—Aggressive steps were being launched today by leading creators, manufacturers and retailers to open a determined battle against the exploitation of women's fashionable merchandise. The movement is a result of a meeting here of prominent merchants, educators and editors.

Representatives of these various interests met at the Empire State club as the guests at luncheon of Julius Forstmann, president of the Forstmann Woollen company. Included among the guests were more than a score of men prominent in the manufacture of articles comprised in fashionable merchandise for women, embracing wool and silk fabrics, velvets, hosiery, millinery, shoes and leather goods. Present also were editors and publishers of the leading fashion-trade and women's publications and representatives of higher education and the industrial arts.

As the National Quality Integrity Guild, it was determined to organize executive an general committees, representing the allied fashion industries, the functions of which will be to conduct a co-operative effort that will educate the public through all available channels as to the fashion and economic values of merchandise with fixed standards of quality.
